Jordt shares announcements

- Conrad says hello, good luck, have fun, esp. to Barrington kids
- we do not have access to the health center on campus - don’t go there!
 - minor stuff - JCL office
 - bigger issue - emergency number
- call to floors is a thing! so is call to rooms! if you are caught again wandering about, you are going home!

Mr. Nifong shares a certamen update!

- advanced and lower both played MA, both very close rounds (upper came in second, lower in first)
- novice killed it and got 265 points!

Ms. Jordt reminds everyone that fellowships and GA are mandatory. Be responsible for your buddies! Mr. Nifong adds that we must make sure that everyone is ok. Then he asks “Where’s Sam Shipley?” and no one is sure.

SCL update from Holly, Melanie, and Martina: we need help with henna at the bazaar. Melanie reminds everyone about submitting personals to the Ear.

Charlie shares election information.

- reviews amendment about state of emergency and running from the floor
- president - 3 candidates, narrowed down to 2
 - Brier Clough, James Bury
- 1st vp - uncontested
 - Michael Kearney
- 2nd vp - Susie Szymanski, Hanna Seariac

Spirit time!

- Tomorrow - lone-star struck by Latin
- bear ears, all black, stars, nametags
- we’ll be mixing more energetic people among the crowd so as to have a more balanced group
 - Sam & Patrick (running), Madeline, Sidhu, Kim (in back/sides)
- practice cheers more thoroughly

- transitional/filler cheers
- arrive less early and don't cheer outside
- congregate before

Val reviews the highlights of tomorrow's schedule

- marathon, meet the candidates, amendments, certamen, testing, sight Latin, ultimate frisbee, swimming, ludi chess, murder mystery, scrapbook, open art viewing

Emily teaches us "honey I love you" and we play.
